MARKETS' SCENARIO:

While the Financial Markets across the world were in good spirits through the FY'2013, our own markets were somewhat nervous, bugged by local issues linked to Economic & Political spectres. Although the Frontline Indices like NIFTY & SENSEX reflected a sense of improvement, the broader markets had been faring quite badly for the better part of the Financial Year.

Just a look at the NIFTY movement, till Mid-January would reflect a healthy 900 points or a 17% gain from FY'12 closing levels of 5190, to a High of 6090 levels, suggesting that the markets are in fine fettle. However, much of this INDEX up move was supported by a merely handful of INDEX-Heavy stocks. While most of these PIVOTALS spiked up anywhere from 50-75% the broader markets were actually giving negative returns.

Even as at mid January the markets were somewhat hopeful of improvement but what followed in the subsequent 10 weeks was quite disastrous. While the NIFTY itself lost over 7%, many stocks from the broader markets lost 40-60% effortlessly, exposing the shallowness of our Financial markets. The market sentiments hit distressing lows even as seasoned players struggled desperately for survival.

MARKET INTERMEDIARIES IN A QUANDARY: Not only the Equities markets, but the Commodities markets, especially the BULLIAN & the Currencies markets too were facing huge turbulence leading to a large-scale exodus of market participants. As a result, it is the Market Intermediaries who were the worst hit. The facts about squeezing margins on Brokerages & other Fee based operational income is quite well known but this absolute shrinkage of business volumes is making it increasingly challenging for the players to survive, let alone flourish.

The weak stock valuations, especially that of mid-tier & emerging companies has resulted in a wide spread slackness in Merchant Banking activities as well. Most mid-tier segment companies remained absolutely lack-lustre. The Primary Market or the IPO issuances remain near non-existence & offers little hope for the mid-level Intermediaries in the foreseeable future.

ECONOMIC SCENARIO: The Economic & Political issues have a strange Inter-connection & both these factors are grossly negatively positioned for sometime now, from the Financial Markets' view point. The Economy as a whole had been dwindling over the past few years, even accelerating the pace of the slow-down. The Inflation picture remains scary on both counts, CPI & WPI with the later remaining above 7% till FY'13 end. Apart from GDP, other most Important Economic & Fiscal Indicators too remain grim.

SOME RAYS OF HOPE: However, true to the great Indian spirit, there's still some hope yet, in the period to come. Having confronted with an alarming situation the concerned Ministry has already seen taking bolder decisions. Following the Diesel Price hiking mechanism, the Finance Minister will hopefully push ahead with an Economic Reform process that will help lift the whole Economy from the terribly difficult terrain it is languishing at present.

The turn of events as reflected by the Financial Markets, from the onset of the New Financial Year, have been somewhat cheerful. Of course, much of this refreshing cheer to the markets is due to the favourable global cues. The Western world or the Developed Economies have done quite a remarkable job, by not only fighting out a horrific Economic crisis, but returning to what can be seen as newer vistas of glory. New life-time highs being repeatedly scaled by the very Important Indices like the DOW JONES and S&P-500 is a clear testimony to the greater resolve they have been displaying in countering adverse conditions.

Opportunities and Threats

The Company being a player in the financial market, the performance of the Company largely depends on the National and Global Capital Markets. The High volatility in the market along with higher inflation has intensified the competition. Your Company continues to achieve cost effectiveness through the application of technology. We have been fashioning our own responses to these challenges and we believe that we can turn them into opportunities, which can unlock growth for us in the future.

Opportunities

- Growing Financial Services industry's share of wallet for disposable income.
- Regulatory reforms would aid greater participation by all the class of investors
- Leverage technology to enable best practices and process.

Threats

- Execution Risk
- Slowdown in global liquidity flows
- Intense competition from local and global players.
- Unfavourable economic conditions

Macro-economic and industry developments

The Stock Market has been revolutionized by adopting modern technology, as the exchanges are now able to reach out to the far flung centers of the country with an efficient trading network for the benefit of retail customers. The Capital Market is most efficient when it discounts all informations in pricing of traded equity stocks. The maturity of the Stock Market has made it increasingly less risky through built-in information system made available to the participants over and above supervisory oversight. The ongoing efforts for further broadening and deepening of the Stock Market domestically and aligning the market with global trading system is not only expanding the customer base but also attracting more resources for investments.

The Indian broking industry is one of the oldest trading industries that have been around even before the establishment of the BSE in 1875. Despite passing through a number of changes in the post liberalization period, the industry has found its way towards sustainable growth.

The financial markets have been classified as cash market, derivatives market, debt market and commodities market. The sustained growth of the economy in the past couple of years has resulted in offering many diversified services related to IPOs, mutual funds, Company research etc. However, the core trading activity is still the predominant form of business, forming 90% of the trading volume.

The fragmented nature of the industry, coupled with increasing competition from large players in the retail and institutional broking side is likely to exert pressure on broking houses, hence the ability to maintain market share, margins and consequently, return ratios stands as a big question mark. Moreover, declining market turnover due to dwindling retail and institutional investor participation, significant correction in stock prices, dismal investment banking outlook and a worsening macroeconomic scenario do not bode well for brokerage firms.

Fixed assets, and are carried at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, if any. The cost of fixed assets includes interest on borrowings attributable to acquisition of qualifying fixed assets up to the date the asset is ready for its intended use and other incidental expenses incurred up to that date. Machinery spares which can be used only in connection with an item of fixed asset and whose use is expected to be irregular are capitalised and depreciated over the useful life of the principal item of the relevant assets. Subsequent expenditure relating to fixed assets is capitalised only if such expenditure results in an increase in the future benefits from such asset beyond its previously assessed standard of performance.

Fixed assets acquired in full or part exchange for another asset are recorded at the fair market value or the net book value of the asset given up, adjusted for any balancing cash consideration. Fair market value is determined either for the assets acquired or asset given up, whichever is more clearly evident. Fixed assets acquired in exchange for securities of the Company are recorded at the fair market value of the assets or the fair market value of the securities issued, whichever is more clearly evident.

The Company has not revalued its assets.

Fixed assets retired from active use and held for sale are stated at the lower of their net book value and net realisable value and are disclosed separately in the Balance Sheet.

21.9 Intangible assets

Intangible assets are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and impairment losses, if any. The cost of an intangible asset comprises its purchase price, including any import duties and other taxes (other than those subsequently recoverable from the taxing authorities), and any directly attributable expenditure on making the asset ready for its intended use and net of any trade discounts and rebates. Subsequent expenditure on an intangible asset after its purchase / completion is recognised as an expense when incurred unless it is probable that such expenditure will enable the asset to generate future economic benefits in excess of its originally assessed standards of performance and such expenditure can be measured and attributed to the asset reliably, in which case such expenditure is added to the cost of the asset.

21.10 Foreign currency transactions and translations

Initial recognition

Transactions in foreign currencies are accounted at the exchange rates prevailing on the date of the transaction or at rates that closely approximate the rate at the date of the transaction.

Treatment of exchange differences

Exchange differences arising on settlement / restatement of short-term foreign currency monetary assets and liabilities of the Company and its integral foreign operations are recognised as income or expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss. The exchange differences on restatement / settlement of loans to non-integral foreign operations that are considered as net investment in such operations are accumulated in a "Foreign currency translation reserve" until disposal / recovery of the net investment. The exchange differences arising on restatement / settlement of long-term foreign currency monetary items are capitalised as part of the depreciable fixed assets to which the monetary item relates and depreciated over the remaining useful life of such assets or amortised on settlement / over the maturity period of such items if such items do not relate to acquisition of depreciable fixed assets. The unamortised balance is carried in the Balance Sheet as "Foreign currency monetary item translation difference account" net of the tax effect thereon.

Accounting of forward contracts

Premium / discount on forward exchange contracts, which are not intended for trading or speculation purposes, are amortised over the period of the contracts if such contracts relate to monetary items as at the Balance Sheet date.

21.11 Investments

Long-term investments (excluding investment properties), are carried individually at cost less provision for diminution, other than temporary, in the value of such investments. Current investments are carried individually, at the lower of cost and fair value. Cost of investments include acquisition charges such as brokerage, fees and duties. Investment properties are carried individually at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment, if any. Investment properties are capitalised and depreciated (where applicable) in accordance with the policy stated for Tangible Fixed Assets. Impairment of investment property is determined in accordance with the policy stated for Impairment of Assets.

21.12 Employee benefits

Employee benefits include provident fund, superannuation fund, gratuity fund, compensated absences, long service awards and post-employment medical benefits.

Defined contribution plans

The Company's contribution to provident fund and superannuation fund are considered as defined contribution plans and are charged as an expense as they fall due based on the amount of contribution required to be made.

Defined benefit plans

For defined benefit plans in the form of gratuity fund and post-employment medical benefits, the cost of providing benefits is determined using the Projected Unit Credit method, with actuarial valuations being carried out at each Balance Sheet date. Actuarial gains and losses are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which they occur. Past service cost is recognised immediately to the extent that the benefits are already vested and otherwise is amortised on a straight-line basis over the average period until the benefits become vested. The retirement benefit obligation recognised in the Balance Sheet represents the present value of the defined benefit obligation as adjusted for unrecognised past service cost, as reduced by the fair value of scheme assets. Any asset resulting from this calculation is limited to past service cost, plus the present value of available refunds and reductions in future contributions to the schemes.

Short-term employee benefits

The undiscounted amount of short-term employee benefits expected to be paid in exchange for the services rendered by employees are recognised during the year when the employees render the service. These benefits include performance incentive and compensated absences which are expected to occur within twelve months after the end of the period in which the employee renders the related service. The cost of such compensated absences is accounted as under : (a) in case of accumulated compensated absences, when employees render the services that increase their entitlement of future compensated absences; and (b) in case of non-accumulating compensated absences, when the absences occur.

Long-term employee benefits

Compensated absences which are not expected to occur within twelve months after the end of the period in which the employee renders the related service are recognised as a liability at the present value of the defined benefit obligation as at the Balance Sheet date less the fair value of the plan assets out of which the obligations are expected to be settled. Long Service Awards are recognised as a liability at the present value of the defined benefit obligation as at the Balance Sheet date.

21.13 Segment reporting

The Company identifies primary segments based on the dominant source, nature of risks and returns and the internal organisation and management structure. The operating segments are the segments for which separate financial information is available and for which operating profit/loss amounts are evaluated regularly by the executive Management in deciding how to allocate resources and in assessing performance.

The accounting policies adopted for segment reporting are in line with the accounting policies of the Company. Segment revenue, segment expenses, segment assets and segment liabilities have been identified to segments on the basis of their relationship to the operating activities of the segment. Revenue, expenses, assets and liabilities which relate to the Company as a whole and are not allocable to segments on reasonable basis have been included under “unallocated revenue / expenses / assets / liabilities”.

21.14 Earnings Per Share

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit / (loss) after tax (including the post tax effect of extraordinary items, if any) by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. Diluted earnings per share is computed by dividing the profit / (loss) after tax (including the post tax effect of extraordinary items, if any) as adjusted for dividend, interest and other charges to expense or income relating to the dilutive potential equity shares, by the weighted average number of equity shares considered for deriving basic earnings per share and the weighted average number of equity shares which could have been issued on the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares.

Potential equity shares are deemed to be dilutive only if their conversion to equity shares would decrease the net profit per share from continuing ordinary operations. Potential dilutive equity shares are deemed to be converted as at the beginning of the period, unless they have been issued at a later date. The dilutive potential equity shares are adjusted for the proceeds receivable had the shares been actually issued at fair value (i.e. average market value of the outstanding shares). Dilutive potential equity shares are determined independently for each period presented. The number of equity shares and potentially dilutive equity shares are adjusted for share splits / reverse share splits and bonus shares, as appropriate.

21.15 Taxes on income

Current tax is the amount of tax payable on the taxable income for the year as determined in accordance with the provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961. Minimum Alternate Tax (MAT) paid in accordance with the tax laws, which gives future economic benefits in the form of adjustment to future income tax liability, is considered as an asset if there is convincing evidence that the Company will pay normal income tax. Accordingly, MAT is recognised as an asset in the Balance Sheet when it is probable that future economic benefit associated with it will flow to the Company. Deferred tax is recognised on timing differences, being the differences between the taxable income and the accounting income that originate in one period and are capable of reversal in one or more subsequent periods. Deferred tax is measured using the tax rates and the tax laws enacted or substantially enacted as at the reporting date. Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all timing differences. Deferred tax assets in respect of unabsorbed depreciation and carry forward of losses are recognised only if there is virtual certainty that there will be sufficient future taxable income available to realise such assets. Deferred tax assets are recognised for timing differences of other items only to the extent that reasonable certainty exists that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which these can be realised. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset if such items relate to taxes on income levied by the same governing tax laws and the Company has a legally enforceable right for such set off. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each Balance Sheet date for their realisability. Current and deferred tax relating to items directly recognised in equity are recognised in equity and not in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Current and deferred tax relating to items directly recognised in equity are recognised in equity and not in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

21.16 Research expenses

Revenue expenditure pertaining to research is charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss. Value addition costs of products are also charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss unless a product's technological feasibility has been established, in which case such expenditure is capitalised. The amount capitalised comprises expenditure that can be directly attributed or allocated on a reasonable and consistent basis to creating, producing and making the asset ready for its intended use. Fixed assets utilised for research and development are capitalised and depreciated in accordance with the policies stated for Tangible Fixed Assets and Intangible Assets.

21.17 Impairment of assets

The carrying values of assets / cash generating units at each Balance Sheet date are reviewed for impairment. If any indication of impairment exists, the recoverable amount of such assets is estimated and impairment is recognised, if the carrying amount of these assets exceeds their recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the greater of the net selling price and their value in use. Value in use is arrived at by discounting the future cash flows to their present value based on an appropriate discount factor. When there is indication that an impairment loss recognised for an asset in earlier accounting periods no longer exists or may have decreased, such reversal of impairment loss is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss, except in case of revalued assets.

21.18 Provisions and contingencies

A provision is recognised when the Company has a present obligation as a result of past events and it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made. Provisions (excluding retirement benefits) are not discounted to their present value and are determined based on the best estimate required to settle the obligation at the Balance Sheet date. These are reviewed at each Balance Sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates. Contingent liabilities are disclosed in the Notes.

21.19 Derivative contracts

The Company enters into derivative contracts in the nature of foreign currency swaps, currency options, forward contracts with an intention to hedge its existing assets and liabilities, firm commitments and highly probable transactions. Derivative contracts which are closely linked to the existing assets and liabilities are accounted as per the policy stated for Foreign Currency Transactions and Translations. Derivative contracts designated as a hedging instrument for highly probable forecast transactions are accounted as per the policy stated for Hedge Accounting. All other derivative contracts are marked-to-market and losses are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss. Gains arising on the same are not recognised, until realised, on grounds of prudence.

21.20 Service tax input credit

Service tax input credit is accounted for in the books in the period in which the underlying services are received and are accounted and when there is no uncertainty in availing / utilising the credits.
